Comments	Mr. Grose found a 683 Supertrak portable screen at the quarry site two miles west of the intersection. A dump truck was on-site with the name of Quality Structures of the Arkansas, LLC printed on the side. On August 1, 2006, at 10:05 a.m. Ms. Angela Adams, of Quality Structures, returned a call to Mr. Grose and explained that the facility is doing their own blasting and leveling and they are using the rock on-site. Ms. Adams was not sure if a crusher was being used on-site, or if the facility is just using a screen. Ms. Adams believed the rock is to be used on site for leveling and will not be hauled off-site. Ms. Adams stated she would call back with the information concerning the crusher. On August 2, 2006, at 2:00 p.m. Ms. Adams contacted Mr. Grose and confirmed that the equipment on-site is a screen. There is no crusher and none have been used on-site. Mr. Gross did not issue a violation.
Comp. No.	SW8886	Comp. Info	The complainant stated the reported party does not have an air permit for their crusher. The rock is not staying on the development property, instead it is being sold. The complainant estimated the reported party sold 300 tons of rock that is waiting to be transported off the site.

The property owner stated the shingles were illegally dumped on-site and set on fire by the dumper or another party. The property owner was not involved. Comments	Mr. Grose arrived on site and observed a large pile of tree branches on the north side of the property driveway adjacent to the road. Mr. Grose also observed two blocks of styrofoam stacked approximately 30 feet from the pile. Mr. Grose spoke with the daughter-in-law to the reported party who recommended contacting the reported party in the evening. Mr. Grose requested and received permission to look at the lower side of the pile. Charred wood and ash were visible from the driveway. Mr. Grose observed one plastic bag and a few untreated boards (approximately one percent) in the pile, but did not observe any other solid waste. After observing for approximately two minutes, the wife of the reported party ordered Mr. Grose off of the property. Later, Mr. Grose received a telephone call from the reported party. The reported party indicated he only burns branches, but has not burned any since spring, which was consistent with the appearance of the pile. The reported party previously burned under a permit received from the City of Jefferson, but believes his annual permit is currently expired.
